

Noémi Végh

Király utca 51

1072 Budapest

Cell: +36 30 328 77 91

Email: noemivegh@gmail.com

www.interact.click.hu

Education:

Ph.D., English Literature and Media Studies, University of Siegen, Germany, 2006

Concentrations: Media Anthropology, Literary Theory, Gender Studies

Dissertation: (Proto)Literary Performativity: Laminations in the Texts of A. S. Byatt

Main research interests: the aesthetic, the performative and the intermedial 'turn(s)' on contemporary media landscapes, the modalities of diverse media (configurations) to enhance the aesthetic appeal of – so called – experience, theories of consciousness – especially neurobiological ones – and their relatability to media structures, (cyber)mysticism and the (re)emergence of archaic practices due to (post)modern technologies

M.A., English and American Literature, University of Siegen, 1997

Concentrations: Contemporary Native American Fiction, (Post)Modern Literary Theory, Orality and Literacy

Thesis: Between Native American Mentalities and Postmodern Thought

Experience:

Student Assistant of Prof. Dr. K. Ludwig Pfeiffer, Head of Department English Literature, Siegen University, 1992-1997

Main tasks as assistant: supporting the research and educational activities of the professor; reviewing and reporting on novel publications in the professor's field of interest, selecting secondary reading (and other audiovisual etc. material) for fellow-students in order to deepen the impact of the courses, interacting with diverse international organizations (theaters, festivals etc.) in order to obtain material for certain seminars and reviewing articles for publication.

Private Entrepreneur, Szolnok, Hungary, 1997-2001

Teaching and training activities; interpreter

Diverse teaching positions. Teacher of business English at the College of Commerce and Economics in Szolnok concerned with economic, cultural and environmental issues, intercultural communication, European integration, oral and written eloquence and techniques of negotiation. Organization of several extra-curricular activities: visits at diverse multinational companies throughout the country and assessment of students' reports on these events. Teacher of English at a secondary school for economics and communication. Private language and communications trainer and interpreter at various multinational organizations in the area.

Voluntary social worker, 1997-2001

Involvement in the work of an organization assisting challenged people (addictions a. o.) in the area in cooperation with the medical centers and the churches of the city of Szolnok.

Lecturer at Károli Gáspár University, 2007

Lecturer at JATE University, Szeged, 2008

Skills and Qualifications:

- Tour guide
- Joga instructor in training
- Excellent oral and written competence in English, German, Dutch and – naturally – in Hungarian